

NORTHWESTERN
WATER & SEWER
DISTRICT

PRESS RELEASE

Tim Wilkins was recently named by the Northwestern Water and Sewer District as the Dispatcher for field operations. Recently retired as village administrator of Oak Harbor, Ohio, Mr. Wilkins began employment on September 6, 2005 at the District's office at 12560 Middleton Pike, Bowling Green, Ohio.

His duties include transmitting radio communications, equipment and manpower routing, handling work orders, emergency alerts, customer scheduling, inventory maintenance and monthly EPA reports.

The District provides potable water and sanitary sewer services to 17,000 customers in Wood County and has 33 employees.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Tim Wilkins', is positioned to the right of the text.
